The Department of Mathematics in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University seeks applications to fill an Eminent Scholar position in Scientific Computation. The ideal candidate will be a leader in the research field of Scientific Computation and will carry out interdisciplinary research forging new connections with other departments at The Ohio State University and other institutions. It is expected that this faculty member will be significantly engaged with the graduate and undergraduate programs in the Mathematics Department (e.g., directing PhD, Master's theses and/or directing undergraduate research). This position is partially funded by Ohio State’s Discovery Themes Initiative, a significant faculty hiring investment in key thematic areas in which the university can build on its culture of academic collaboration to make a global impact.

Qualifications:
A doctoral degree in Mathematics is required at the time of application. The ideal candidate will have an excellent research record in the area of Scientific Computation and evidence of strong teaching ability. Appointment is contingent on the university’s verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.
