Department: Physics
Position: Experimental Condensed Matter and Materials Physics
Rank: Professor

Description:

The Department of Physics in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University seeks applications to fill a tenured professor appointment effective Autumn Semester 2016. Highly qualified candidates in experimental condensed matter and materials physics are invited to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates with an interest in novel two-dimensional systems. This position is partially funded by Ohio State's Discovery Themes Initiative, a significant faculty hiring investment in key thematic areas in which the university can build on its culture of academic collaboration to make a global impact: http://discovery.osu.edu/focus-areas/materials-manufacturing/

Qualifications:
Applicants should have a Ph.D. and an outstanding research record. A commitment to excellence in teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels is essential. Appointment is contingent on the university’s verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at http://www.columbus.org

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/6481. Complete applications include a letter of application, a complete curriculum vitae including a list of publications, a brief description of research plans, and a teaching statement. Applicants should provide the names of at least six individuals who could supply letters of reference on request. Applications will be considered until the position is filled, however those received by December 1, 2015 will receive priority consideration.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.