The study of Aging is an interprofessional field focusing on the health and well-being of older adults and their families.
According to the US Bureau of the Census, older adults (persons 65 years or older) numbered 47.8 million in 2015.
They represented 14.9% of the U.S. population, about one in every seven Americans. By 2060, there will be about 98.2 million older persons. The 65+ population is expected to grow to be 25% of the population by 2060.

This minor prepares undergraduate students to pursue graduate and workforce opportunities in fields with an aging focus, such as medicine, health and rehabilitation sciences, nursing, psychology, social work, policy, speech and hearing, and geriatrics. The objectives for this minor are for graduates to:
1) recognize and value the interprofessional nature of aging;
and 2) apply knowledge to future occupations with older adults.

The minor in Aging requires a minimum of 12 credit hours. All students must take HTHRHSC 4600S, Health after Mid-Life OR HTHRHSC 3500 Critical Phases of Life (3) and at least two courses chosen from the Core Courses, and at least one additional course listed, for a total of at least 12 credit hours.

Once the Aging Minor program coordinator (or the coordinator’s designee) has approved the Minor Program Form, you should file the form with your college or school counselor.

*Some courses in this minor may have pre-requisites. Please consult the course bulletin before enrolling in courses.
