See the Faculty Coordinator for questions about courses and research in Latina/o Studies.

Latinas/os are multi-racial, multi-ethnic, multi-lingual, and often trans-national. Latinas/os have been a part of the U.S. since the nineteenth century. The Latina/o Studies Minor allows students to deepen knowledge of Latina/o experiences (social, economic, legal, etc.), histories, literatures, cultures, and arts; enhance critical learning skills; learn comparative and interdisciplinary methods of analysis; and develop close working relationships with faculty and other students. Courses in the Latina/o Studies Minor explore a variety of important topics relevant to this growing sector of the U.S. population and its hemispheric and global dimensions.

As an inter-discipline, we encourage students to study in multiple fields for the most comprehensive understanding of:
• Latinas/os in the U.S.
• the research field of Latina/o Studies
• varied methods and approaches employed in studying Latinas/os in the U.S.
• Latina/o transnational and global impacts and networks.
The Minor in Latina/o Studies, therefore, also provides students with an education in multiple disciplines and cutting-edge research.

Requirements: 12 Credits

Required Core Course, 3 Credits: Comparative Studies 2322 / Spanish 2242: Introduction to Latina/o Studies (generally offered every semester)

Required Elective Courses, 9 Credits: Students choose three additional courses from the list below. Students must take at least one course in each of the two general subject areas: Culture, Literature, and Arts; History and Social Issues. Please see “Current Courses” page of our website to see what is offered in the current academic year. Courses marked with an asterisk (*) have variable topics and instructors. When a Latina/o Studies affiliated faculty member is teaching an asterisked course, it will generally count for the Minor; otherwise, syllabi for these courses need approval from Faculty Coordinator to count for Minor.

Required Spread: At least two courses or 6 hours of coursework in the Minor must be in Upper Division courses:

i.e., (1) courses numbered 3000-5000 and (2) foreign language courses taught in the language at the 2000 level and above,

Language Option: Students may count only one course in Spanish language instruction toward the Minor, although all possible options are listed below in elective list.

Additional Course Options: Students or Faculty may petition the Faculty Coordinator to include a course in the Minor course of study provided that they supply a syllabus for approval.

Subject Area: Culture, Literature, Arts

Courses in this area will explore various forms of creative expressions that have emerged from the U.S. Latina/o community in literature, film, art, dance, theater, music, performance, and popular culture. Courses may also explore Latina/o cultural phenomena as they interface with those arising out of communities in the Americas generally. Students will learn the methods of literary, cultural, and artistic analysis, and consider creative expression as well as a vehicle for social transformation.
