Students can declare the minor through their major advisor. Meeting with an advisor in the English department is not required. Minor Coordinator: Prof. Jared Gardner (gardner.236@osu.edu).

The goal of the minor is to provide tools for students to build bridges between the popular, public, and material cultures of their daily lives and the cultures that are the traditional objects of study.

The Popular Culture Studies minor requires the completion of 15 hours, which consists of an introductory course and at least one course involving the study of a historical popular culture (pre-1945); at least one course focusing on a popular culture outside majority-U.S. culture; and no more than two film courses.

Not including the required introductory course, no more than two courses may be taken at the 2000-level. No more than two courses to be counted for the minor may be taken from a single department.
